

The Farm School "Huerto Alegre" is situated in the Natural Park of Sierras de Tejeda, Almirajara y Alhama, surrounded by meadows, close to a centenary oak-tree forest with a high ecological and landscape value. 1.200 meters over the sea level, equidistant from la Costa Tropical and Granada, gives us the opportunity to do cultural and environmental visits to these emblematic places. The building is an old andalusian restored farmhouse, with accommodation for 70 people, dining facilities, living room with fireplace, work rooms and large spaces for reunions and meetings.

The Farm School is also equipped to develop environmental education activities with ecology workshops, astronomy, and local resources (mud, looms, vegetable fibers...), laboratory, renewable energies, theatre...with farm animals (cows, goats, horses...) with an ecological orchard ready to the pupils, where they can participate planting, cultivating and harvesting. All in all, is possible to have learning experiences and significant and unforgettable experiences.
